About Apollo Hospital

Indraprastha Apollo Hospital is an Indian hospital owned by Apollo Hospital group, India's largest healthcare chain, and is the second largest money making hospital in Delhi. This hospital was established in 1995. Indraprastha Apollo Hospital has recently been accredited by Joint Commission International (JCI) USA as the first internationally accredited Hospital in India in 2005 and South Asia. In 2011, the hospital got re-accredited by JCI for a fourth time consequently, making it the first hospital in India to do so.

The first successful pediatric and adult liver transplants in India were performed at Apollo Hospitals in November 1998

It is the third super specialty tertiary care hospital set by the Apollo Hospitals Group, jointly with the Government of Delhi, India's capital. It is a 695-bed hospital, with the provision for expansion to 1000 beds in future. The hospital is spread over 15 acres, and has a built-up area of 600,000 square feet.

The Apollo Heart Institutes at Indraprastha Apollo Hospitals is part of one of the largest cardiovascular groups in the world. Read More...

Reviews

Recently visited health check up department of Apollo Hospital for a whole body check up. The entire process from check in to the end was seamless. The staff at the health check department was courteous, helpful and very attentive. I would highly recommend this hospital to anyone looking for something similar services.

Dr Vijay Kumar Chennamchetty: We met Dr Vijay Chennamchetty last month with severe cough and sputum for my father Dr Varaprasad. His way of handling patients is excellent and so soothing that the patient feels immensely confident about recovery. Thanks to Dr. Vijay, within 2 weeks, he is completely normal.
